Ardra,

Our people are reviewing all of this and should be back to you by Wednesday.

Are you available for a call tomorrow morning?

Ed

These are the two documents that need to be finalized in order for the EPA to accept the WaterGen unit at the Cincinnati lab and receive & review your water quality process/data. As you're aware, the statement of work associated with the CRADA is currently being revised to reflect the decisions made in Cincinnati last week and we expect to have the revised version to you next week.

If you have questions or concerns, you may contact Geoff Cooper or Laura Scalise who are both copied on this email.
